The Rothwell organ came from St Andrew's Church, Royal Marine Barracks, Eastney, Portsmouth and was partially restored by Mander on installation about 10 years ago.

The organ is sited in the west gallery. For a photo of the organ loft see – <http://www.geograph.org.uk/photo/2069851>

The main case contains the Great and Swell divisions. The Pedal pipes and blower are in the tower arcade.

The organ is played from a detached drawstop console to the south side of the main case.

The organ is playable but further renovation is needed.

It is now unwanted and immediately available.
